

Vinyl Flooring That Looks Like Stone

Get the realistic look of natural stone flooring in a more comfortable, more forgiving surface.

Imagine the look of natural stone: the captivating mosaic shapes, the delicate veining and the gorgeous blend of organic colors and clefts. You can enjoy the beauty of materials like slate, travertine and quartz, artfully captured in stone-look vinyl flooring.

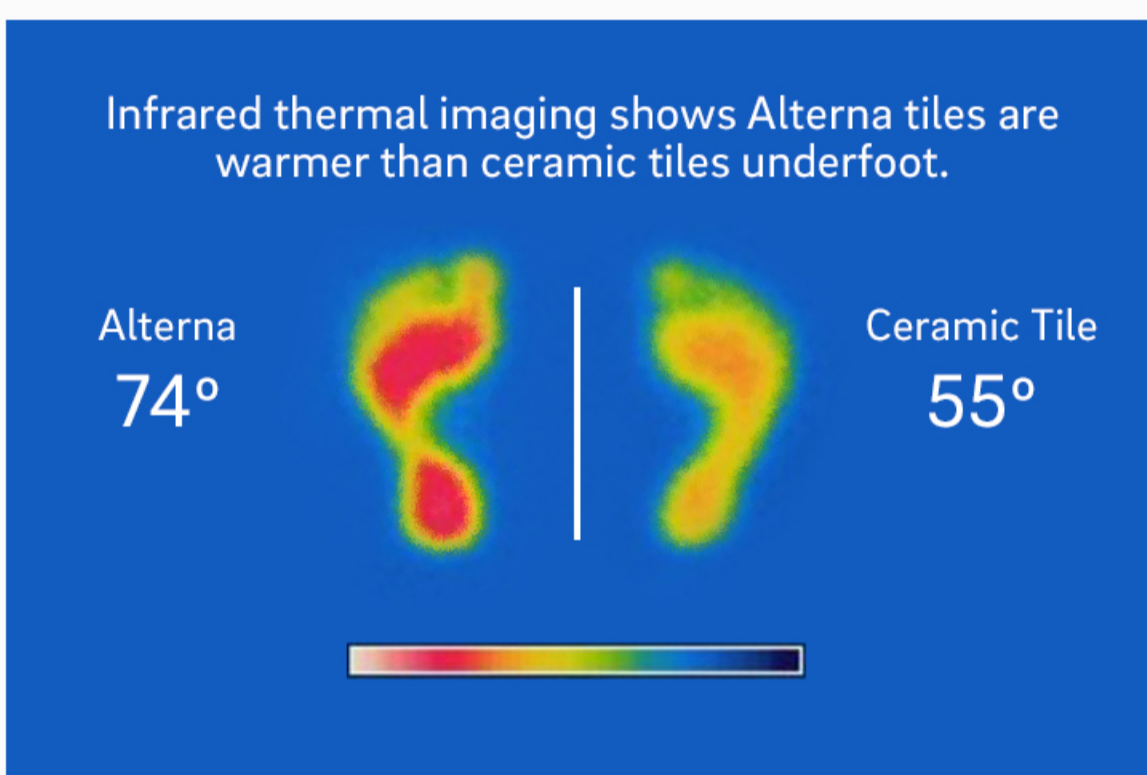

Authentically Designed "Stone" Vinyl Flooring

Luxury vinyl tile offers the look of authentic stone flooring, faithfully recreated through advanced digital print technology and embossing techniques.

More Comfortable Underfoot

While stone-look vinyl flooring portrays the beauty and realism of natural stone, what sets it apart is the comfort factor. Unlike the cold, hard surface of natural stone flooring, vinyl flooring is warmer and more comfortable underfoot. Engineered tile in particular has been proven to be significantly warmer to the touch than ceramic tile, and even though it offers the stability and strength of stone, its surface is much more forgiving on the feet.

Easy Care for Busy Lifestyles

Hard-wearing, durable stone-look vinyl flooring is designed to go the distance in your home, no matter what your lifestyle. Cleaning, care, or upkeep will never be a chore. Just a quick sweep and an occasional damp mopping is all you need to maintain a spotlessly clean floor.

An invisible scratch, stain and abrasion-resistant wear layer protects the beauty of your floor, enabling it to stand up to kids, pets and heavy foot-traffic. Even everyday drops and spills won't mar or damage the beautiful surface of your "stone" vinyl flooring.

Type of stone look hanflor vinyl flooring include:

Slate – Monochromatic gray isn't the only color of slate. Just like in nature, slate comes in a blend of rich colors, including gold, amber and gray-green.

Travertine – The surface finish is usually matte instead of polished, as if it's been gently worn by time. Earth-toned colors range from ivory and gold to blue, tan and brown.

Marble – Classic Carrara marble is an elegant choice for kitchens and bathrooms, and it works beautifully with metal accents.

Quartz – This stone floor-look reveals the remarkable crystalline structure of quartz in flecks and eddying pools of neutral tones.

Limestone – Neutral, warm and calming, limestone comes in lighter shades, ranging from soft white to buttery cream to chamois tan.
