We combine artistic flair with innovative techniques to push the boundaries of perfume bottle design.

MUSK 100ML

The design was inspired by the enigmatic and captivating ofk, has been used for centuries inumery. I wanted to capture essence of alluring and translate it into a visually striking design.

Musk bottle in hands, it evokes sense of luxury and sensuality. The you explore the depths of its fragrance, like a journey the realm of mystery and desire.

AQUILA

100ML

The name "Aquila" is derived from the Latin word for eagle, which symbolizes strength, freedom, and a soaring spirit. This essence served as the foundation for creating a design that embodies these qualities.

With its sleek design and captivating story, the "Aquila" perfume bottle is not only a vessel for a delightful fragrance but also a work of art that invites users to embrace their own unique journey, spreading their wings and reaching new heights.

OSMANTHUS

The design draws inspiration from the mesmerizing beauty and alluring fragrance of the Osmanthus flower. The delicate petals, with their vibrant colors and captivating aroma, serve as the main focal point for the design. The aim is to capture the essence of elegance, femininity, and grace that the Osmanthus flower represents.

Inspiration

Each petal represents a different facet of the fragrance, capturing its essence and creating a visual representation of its scent.

PETALS

Story

the PETALS design aims to capture the essence of femininity, beauty, and the fleeting nature of flowers. It invites the user to experience the fragrance like a walk through a blooming garden, where every step reveals a new aroma and each petal holds a secret story.

Colors

Soft hues of pastel pinks, purples, and greens are used to create a sense of tranquility and grace. The petals are delicately placed around the bottle, forming an abstract and artistic pattern that appears to be naturally falling, as if floating on a gentle breeze.

PIANO

The inspiration for this design also stemmed from the love of music and the emotions it evokes. Music has the power to transport us to another world, stirring our senses and touching our souls. Similarly, perfume has the ability to evoke memories and emotions through its fragrance. By combining music and perfume in this design, we aim to create a truly sensory experience that captivates both the eyes and nose. Overall, this piano-inspired perfume bottle packaging design seeks to capture the essence of elegance, creativity, and emotion. It pays homage to the timeless beauty of the piano while adding a unique twist that makes it stand out in the world of perfumes.

MUSCLE

The design draws inspiration from the intricate network of muscles in the human body, with their defined contours and powerful movements. The bottle is shaped like a sculpted muscular figure, representing the embodiment of and vitality. The curves and lines of the bottle mirror the sinewy forms found in the human physique, emphasizing the beauty and grace of the human body. It creates a visually striking and memorable experience for the consumer, evoking feelings of confidence, empowerment, and sensuality.

CYNTHIA

The design of the perfume bottle packaging for CYNTHIA was inspired by the elegance and sophistication of a blooming garden at twilight. The idea behind the design is to capture the essence of femininity and beauty, while also exuding a sense of mystery and allure.

The overall effect is a design that not only showcases the beauty of the perfume but also tells a captivating story, allowing the user to immerse themselves in the world of CYNTHIA and the magic it embodies.

DANCING

The overall packaging design is complemented by elegant typography, inspired by calligraphy and handwritten dance notations. This adds a touch of artistic flair and further enhances the connection between the fragrance and the world of dance.

Innovation

Our aim is to create a design that not only looks stunning but also showcases the artistry and craftsmanship behind it.

VEIL

The design for this perfume bottle packaging draws inspiration from the captivating and enigmatic nature of a veil. The veil represents a sense of allure, mystery, and intrigue, which sought to capture in the packaging.

To bring this concept to life, I envisioned a bottle that exudes elegance and sophistication. The bottle itself is crafted from frosted glass, creating a soft, ethereal appearance reminiscent of a delicate veil. The frosted texture adds an element of mystery, as it partially obscures the view of the fragrance within, just like a veil gently concealing its secrets.

The story behind this design revolves around the power of mystery and allure. The veil symbolizes the hidden depths and untold stories that lie beneath its folds. It invites users to explore and embrace the unknown, discovering the captivating essence of the fragrance within.

A livret is an exquisite embodiment of knowledge, stories, and secrets, much like the fragrance within the bottle. To capture this essence, it's envisioned a design that marries the worlds of literature and fragrance.

To enhance the storytelling aspect, the bottle is adorned with intricate details inspired by book covers. Delicate engravings of ornate borders, embossed letters, or intricate patterns can be incorporated, adding a touch of elegance and artistry. These details symbolize the richness and depth of the fragrance, akin to the artistry found within the pages of a well-crafted book.

LIVRET

ROCHE

The design of the ROCHE perfume bottle packaging aims to capture the brand's spirit of elegance, sophistication, and timeless beauty while creating a visually stunning product that will stand out on the shelves and engage consumers.

Intricate patterns are molded onto the glass, creating a sense of texture and depth. These patterns are inspired by natural elements like rock or the stalactitique , enhancing the overall visual appeal.

TOTEM

The TOTEM design aims to transport the wearer to a world of wonder and enchantment, where ancient wisdom intertwines with modern sensibility. It invites individuals to embrace their inner spirit and connect with the mystical energy that surrounds us.

INSPIRATION

The inspiration for the design came from ancient civilizations and their deep connection with nature and spirituality. The concept of totems, which are symbols representing different aspects of life, played a significant role in shaping the design. Each totem represents a different facet of the fragrance, capturing its unique character.
